HARRY K. STONE, in 1916.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.

standing on the observatory in Judge 1.
Cohasset Marine killed

COHASSET - The parents of Marine 1st Lt Dennis J. Reardon were notified of their sons' death aboard a helicopter 20 miles south of Da Nang, Vietnam, two days after Thanksgiving.

Norbert V. Reardon Jr. said a Marine representative informed him and his wife, Mary G., that Lt Reardon was killed while flying CH46D helicopter during a medivac mission.

At least four other Marines were killed in the helicopter crash.

A graduate of Cohasset High School in 1963 where he was co-captain and an all-scholastic guard on the football team, Lt Reardon enlisted in the Marine following graduation from Boston College in 1967.

John Rogan, 85, ex-Globe engraver

A high Mass for John J. Rogan, 85, of 5 Woodbine St., Somerville, Globe photoengraver, will be offered at 9 a.m. today in St. Catherine's Church, Somerville. Interment will be at Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

Mr. Rogan was born in Boston but resided in Somerville most of his life. He retired in 1954 after 50 years with the Globe. He was also a news photographer.

He leaves five daughters, Mrs. Mary D. McCarthy and Mrs. Rita J. Carey, both of Somerville, Mrs. Charles C. Haggerty, Newton, and Mrs. William E. Reardon, a brother, William S. Mugglbee of Los Angeles, and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Kirch of Cleveland and Mrs. Ida Gruener of Los Angeles.

Rabbi Jared Goldstein and Cantor Irving Ackerman will officiate at services on Friday at 11 a.m. in Temple Shalom, 287 Lafayette st., Salem. Interment will be in Sons of Jacob of Salem Cemetery, Danvers.

McCarthy he quit!

By Richard J. Connolly, Globe Staff

Charles M. McCarthy, 58, explained yesterday why he quit as master of the Charles Street Jail before Sheriff Thomas J. O'Shea. McCarthy reneged on his agreement to let him run the jail.

The 58-year-old McCarthy, a highly-respected correctional worker with 38 years' experience at the jail, had been named to the post in 1956 by Mayor James Hynes, but that agreement was later rescinded.

Mr. McCarthy, who has never been charged, said he was told by Mayor Hynes that he could not change the jail's 28-year-old agreements with the city.

Mr. McCarthy said he was asked to resign by Mayor Hynes, who added that he would not accept the resignation unless it was accepted.

The resignation was accepted by the City Council last week, ending McCarthy's 38-year term as master of the jail.

Mrs. Haible of Lexington, 53

LEXINGTON - Mrs. Alice Wilson Haible, 53, of 21 Moon Hill rd., active in community and music affairs in Wilmington, Del., prior to her marriage in 1945 to William E., a Boston architect, died yesterday at Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.

Services for James New-